

Statement on Data Protection

Irodalomtörténet

Irodalomtörténet publishes the names and email addresses provided to us in our printed issues and on our website (<https://www.irodalomtortenet.hu>). Any further personal data will be stored only for the purpose of publishing the journal (publishing, paying honoraria), and will not be passed on to any third party. In submitting their manuscript to us, authors agree to their names, ORCID IDs, email addresses (where possible, institutional), institutional affiliation, and the name of their workplace being made publicly available in the journal.

Data shared during the review process is treated in accordance with General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Irodalomtörténet's publisher, Ráció Kiadói Kft., has undertaken to ensure that the principles they follow with respect to data protection when publishing are aligned with Hungarian laws on data protection, most especially with the 2011 CXII Act. Ráció does not use personal data entrusted to them for their own purposes in any way whatsoever.